

AUTUMN

is a great time to live at Hidden Lake. Whether you want to breathe the crisp air on a morning jog, feel the leaves crunch under your feet on a hike through the woods, or just enjoy your morning coffee while watching the leaves fall on the lake, our community gives you the tranquility of country living with the convenience of an urban lifestyle.

Hidden Lake is a place where you can meet your neighbors and feel like part of a community again. Reserve our lake house for your costume party, paddle a canoe around the lake or take the kids out for trick-or-treating - without ever having to leave the neighborhood.

While fall means the leaves are changing and you're trading out short sleeves for sweaters, it's also time for old family recipes and front yard football games. Autumn is a time for transition, but tradition, too. If you're looking to transition into a new home, we invite you to come and see why Hidden Lake is the ideal place to carry on your traditions - or start some new ones.
